

MEASURE WOULD AMEND SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST LAW

Stanley Bill Would Make Monopolization "In Any Degree" Illegal

REMOVE RULE OF REASON

Would Invest Circuit Courts with Jurisdiction to Prevent Isolation of Act

WILL READ MESSAGE TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Representative Stanley of Kentucky, after a conference with President Wilson introduced late today an amendment to the Sherman law which would make illegal the monopolization or restraint of trade, "in any degree." It is designed to eliminate the "rule of reason" laid by the supreme court in the Standard Oil case.

The amendment would also invest the circuit courts of the United States with jurisdiction to restrain and prevent violation of the act, irrespective of the attorney general. It was drawn to meet the wish of the president, expressed in his last message to congress to reduce the debatable area surrounding the Sherman act.

Is Not An Administrative Bill.

Representative Stanley discussed the measure with the president today and previously had corresponded with him at length on the subject. The Kentucky congressman, who was chairman of the special committee which investigated the United States Steel corporation, does not offer the measure as an administration measure but believes it will be of service to the committees of congress that will draft the anti-trust legislation after the president's anti-trust message is delivered next week. The Stanley bill would amend the second and fourth sections of the Sherman law. In section two, into which the supreme court injected the "rule of reason" the words "in any degree" are inserted so that the section would read:

"Every person who shall monopolize or attempt to monopolize or combine or conspire with any other person or persons, to monopolize 'in any degree' any part of the trade or commerce among the several states or with foreign nations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine not exceeding $5,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year or by both, said punishment in the discretion of the court."

Discussing that portion of Chief Justice White's decision, which relates to unreasonable restraint of trade, Representative Stanley said tonight that he had always regarded it as unnecessary to the decision and therefore not the law.

Leaves Remedy Open To All.

Concerning the question of jurisdiction in cases of violation of the trust laws Mr. Stanley said his amendment would make impossible any inaction under the act, because remedy would be open to all.

The provision in section four of the present act requiring all actions to be brought by the attorney general, he said, "has done more to render the Sherman anti-trust act ineffective than almost any other thing. The Sherman act has at times been a dead letter because some attorney general happened to regard it with indifference or hostility."

The amendment will be taken up by the judiciary committee when it begins the work of drafting anti-trust bills after President Wilson has delivered his message. Senator Newlands chairman of the inter-state commerce commission which will have jurisdiction over the legislation in the upper branch of congress said today that the Democratic members of his committee would meet to consider the proposed legislation soon after the president addressed congress.

Another white house conference on anti-trust legislation late today was followed by an announcement that the president would read his address on this subject to congress next Tuesday and that the house judiciary committee would begin hearings on proposed measures later in the week.

President Wilson called Chairman Clayton and Representatives Carlin and Floyd, members of the house committee to the white house to discuss further with them certain features of his address. Mr. Clayton said that he probably would be ready to make public several of the bills pending before the committee within the next few days. No program for the hearings has been announced but it is understood that the committee purposes to invite statements from any interests or individuals who may be affected by the proposed legislation and from anybody desiring to give information on the

ATTACKS LEGALITY OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE ACT

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF ACT IS ATTAACKED BY BRIEF FILED

Counsel of Wm. J. Scown of Chicago, files brief in State Supreme Court on Appeal From Decision of Cook County Superior Court Dismissing Suit.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 16.—The constitutionality of Woman Suffrage act passed by the last Illinois legislature was attacked today in a brief filed in the state supreme court by counsel for William J. Scown, of Chicago, who brought suit to restrain the Cook county board of electioners from incurring expenses in providing for the women to vote at the primary election next month.

The bill was dismissed from the court county superior court for want of equity and the brief today was on appeal from that decision.

The action is made by Levy Mayer, chief counsel for Scown, that the suffrage act adds new provisions to the general election laws so as to create out of the existing laws and the new act a complete act upon the subject and should be held to be amendatory of the old law.

The phase of the suffrage law permitting women to vote "upon all questions or propositions submitted to a vote of the electors" was attacked as violating the provisions of the constitution.

The legislature cannot constitutionally give to women the right to vote upon all questions or propositions, the brief contended and the words "all questions or propositions" contained in the woman's suffrage act cannot be separate by the courts.

The legislature having attempted to confer on women the right to vote upon "all questions or propositions," the brief contended, "the fact that some of these propositions were those for which women could not possibly constitutionally be given the right to vote should render null the whole section and surely so far as 'questions or propositions' are concerned.

"If American women are to be taken as a unit in considering the proposed organic change in the system of government statistics would indicate that out of 46,000,000 females in the United States only 80,00 are said to be sufficiently interested in the cause to have identified themselves actively by membership in the national association.

"The question is still unanswered as to whether the safety of the American home is in danger of impairment by the possible introduction of the explosive and dangerous practises which unfortunately frequently penetrate American politics."

Mr. Mayer stated tonight that the attorneys had agreed that the hearing on the suffrage bill should be held without delay and that the case would be reached on the supreme court calendar about Feb. 10. The primary election in which the right of the women is being challenged is Feb. 27.

HOLD-UP MAN AND OFFICER EXCHANGE HAILED A DOZEN SHOTS IN CHAIR CAR.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 16.—A bandit boarded a Western & Atlantic passenger train at Vinings, Ga., robbed passengers in the coaches of several hundred dollars and after engaging in a pistol fight with a deputy sheriff who was on board, jumped from the train at Bolton, Ga.

Authorities at Bolton, which is seven miles west of Atlanta have taken into custody a man said to answer the description of the bandit.

The train runs from Chattanooga to Atlanta and most of the passengers were residents of Chattanooga and intermediate towns.

As the train passed through Vinings, shortly after seven o'clock, a man entered the chair car, drew a pistol and began to collect valuables from the passengers.

He had robbed more than a score when C. C. Heard, an Atlanta deputy who was returning from Rome, Ga., opened fire on him.

Half a dozen shots were exchanged.

Heard being wounded slightly by a bullet which passed through his cheek.

Whether the bandit was hurt is not known.

He swung from the train as it slowed down at Bolton and disappeared.

The robber did not enter the express or mail cars.

The amount stolen from passengers is believed to have been small, although one man reported he had given up $300.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Jacob Brown, a brother of Samuel Brown, who was arrested here last week, charged with operating the Great Western jobbing office at St. Louis and other alleged swindles in various parts of the country was taken into custody here tonight.

The arrest was made by postal inspectors from St. Louis, who charge Brown with conspiracy to defraud.

The prisoner will be given a hearing before a United States commissioner tomorrow.

PRESIDENT WILSON SPENDS BUSY DAY

CHIEF EXECUTIVE IS OCCUPIED BY CALLERS THE ENTIRE DAY

Talks With Visitors On the Trust Question, International Questions and Attends Cabinet Meeting For Two Hours—Edward Galtor Presents Upon Skin Cap.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—President Wilson had one of the busiest days of the winter today. He reached his office at 8:30 this morning and with the exception of an hour for luncheon with his secretary was continuously occupied with callers until 7 o'clock tonight. Representative Stanley was the president's first caller.

He talked at length on the trust questions. Then the president spent an hour with Secretary Garrison discussing canal zone government and appointments including that of Col. W. C. Gorgas, who was agreed upon to be surgeon general of the United States army.

Secretary Bryan conferred for another hour on international questions and a cabinet meeting occupied the next two hours of the president's time.

In the afternoon Edward F. Galtor, national committeeman from Missouri, dropped in for a few moments, presenting Mr. Wilson with a raccoon skin cap of Davy Crockett style which the president laughingly tried on.

Mr. Galtor recently wrote Secretary Bryan asking what size hat the president wore and the secretary wrote back "the same size as usual."

The president talked for an hour with Postmaster General Burleson, after which the latter said he would continue every effort to have eliminated from the postoffice appropriation bill the provision exempting assistant postmasters from the civil service.

The president completed his day's work with a two hour conference on the trust question with Chairman Clayton and Representative Floyd of the house judiciary committee.

IMPROVEMENT, KEYNOTE OF WEEK'S DISPATCHES

MUCH OF BETTERMENT IS SENTIMENTAL IN CHARACTER.

Changes in Business Conditions Have Been Mainly in Direction of Improvements and Confidence is Further Strengthened.

New York, Jan. 16.—Bradstreet's will say tomorrow: "Improvement is the keynote of this week's dispatches. Much of the betterment is sentimental in character but at the same time considerable of it is actual and substantial. Foremost in the budget of news is the better state of employment incident to the resumption of operations in plants that had closed down over the holidays, particularly in the iron and steel industry; the freer buying of commercial paper, with banks seeking desirable grades and reporting supplies not equal to demand; the all-around ease in money following months of restricted credits and stringency and betterment in demand for spring and beyond."

"Activity in wool continue with prices hardening. Mills for iron and steel have enlarged."

Dun's Review will say tomorrow:

"Changes in business conditions have been mainly in the direction of improvement and confidence is further strengthened."

A significant feature is the reval of activity in commercial paper, merchants and manufacturer-finding it possible to provide for their requirements at considerably easier terms than heretofore.

"Almost without exception reports from the leading sections of the country indicate that Mercantile and Industrial enterprises are being undertaken with increased vigor and it is gratifying that signs of improvement are clearly apparent in iron and steel. Failures this week number 493 in the United States against 434 last year and 49

in Canada compared with 21 a year ago."

Sometimes a man will be talked into buying a thing and afterwards regret it. But if he repeats the order it shows that the article is staple and its importance grows with familiarity. Now listen:

Babcock Fire Extinguishers are a staple. Those who know them best buy most freely.

The State Institutions of this city have been using them for 40 years and they buy more every year. Our Savior's Hospital bought several years ago and have since increased the number. Passavant Hospital first bought 2, then added to it. The Woman's College bought 11 and a year later bought 27 more. The Trustees of Illinois College, after having them in their own homes for years, bought 28 for the college buildings.

In business, Harry Frankel bought 1, then 2; Cops & Frank bought 2, then 1; Elsie Bros. 3, then 7. There are but instances.

7509 NATIONAL BANKS.
There were 7509 national banks doing business in the United States on December 31, according to the comptroller of the currency. The authorized capital of the banks was $1,070,139,175, with an outstanding bond secured circulation amounting to $740,633,645. During the year, 217 applications to organize national banks were received. Only two were rejected, and 171 so far have been approved. There were thirteen applications in December.

LOST OUR POTATO RECORD.
Uncle Sam is quite worried because of the failure of his farmers to keep up to the mark in the production of potatoes. Instead of leading the world in this crop of American origin, the United States hardly ranks as an also ran. Our annual yield is about 300,000,000 bushels. The crop of Germany for the latest year of which full statistics are available was 1,263,000,000 bushels—more than four times our average record. Austria and France are likewise far ahead of the United States in this crop, and even the tiny British Islands produce nearly as many "murphies" as the great continental republic.

Bloomington Pantograph says truly: To know that so much vice exists is enough to call for its condemnation without uncovering it before the gaze of a decent community. It is no more necessary to flaunt the disgusting details of the lower world before the faces of self-respecting people that it may be condemned than it is to set rotten food on the table along with the wholesome that the wholesome may be appreciated and the other loathed. The harm done by those engaged in this show-window display of human frailty and sin may be far greater than supposed. Good taste never demands it and as for any other it does not have to be catered to, indeed it is not safe to cater to it.

TOO MUCH "REFORM."
The writer of a paper read in the firemen's state convention expressed the positive opinion that civil-service rules, in fire departments, have operated to reduce, and not to raise, the standard of efficiency.

Captain H. J. Lohmann of Aurora has observed that the best record of performance is not always made by the man that answers questions most correctly. The captain has seen, in 25 years, that best results have come from letting the department head test and select—not from letting an examination board quiz and assign to places on the eligible list.

A practical merit system is good, and changes from political considerations in fire departments and in many other places certainly are bad. But still there are some spots where the system of life appointment from the examiners has gone blind, beginning at the top, has gone to seed. There are evidences elsewhere than in fire departments.

OUR NATIONAL FIRE LOSS.
Statistics compiled by the Insurance Press of New York City show that the fire losses for the year 1913 were slightly less than in 1912 and relatively about the same amount in excess of the losses from the same cause during 1909. The figures for the last five years are appended:

1913 . . . . . $203,408,250
1912 . . . . . 207,543,900

1911 . . . . . 217,004,575
1910 . . . . . 214,003,200

1909 . . . . . 188,705,150

Insurance Press further points out that the big fires of 1913, in which the loss was half a million dollars or over, numbered 40, according to the best obtainable records.

Persons who read the sale announcements will do well to go to the stores and personally investigate the offerings. They will be surprised by the prices.

wharf and railroad property in Savannah, Ga., on Feb. 2; the paper box plant and other buildings in Long Island City on June 8, and the conflagration in Hot Springs, Ark., on Sept. 5, in which property to the value of $2,500,000 was destroyed.

THREATEN TO STRIKE.
And now the college professors are threatening to go on strike. They are chafing under restrictions which interfere with their freedom of speech, and they do not propose standing for them, says the Springfield Journal. An intimation of what is coming is given in a resolution recently adopted by the American Political Science Association, at its meeting in Washington.

As a result of this resolution, the organization has appointed a committee of three "to examine and report upon the present situation in American educational institutions as to liberty of thought, freedom of speech, and security of tenure for teachers of political science." A similar investigation also had been authorized by the American Sociological Society, which took action on the subject at its last annual meeting, held in Minneapolis.

Within the year last passed, several college professors have been removed because they were too active in political matters or because they were teaching theories abominous to the governing bodies of the institutions in which they were employed. This sort of disciplining of the professors resented, and they are getting ready to organize against it. The investigations authorized by the societies mentioned mark the first step.

BAD FOR GROWING BOYS.
"Every criminal and every degenerate," said Director of Public Safety George D. Porter to a meeting of 1,500 people in Philadelphia, "is a cigaret fiend." Which of course, is not equivalent, by any means to saying that every user of cigarettes is a criminal and degenerate. The director was supporting his contention that the cigaret is a bad thing for the growing boy. The day before he had telephoned the office of correction in Philadelphia. He learned that 75 per cent of the boys sent to the institution—531 in 1911, 274 in 1912, all less than 21 years old—were cigaret fiends. Records kept by Judge Carey of New York, before whom boys charged with everything, from crap shooting to borgary, are tried, showed, said the director that 95 per cent of the judge's cases were those of boys addicted to cigaret smoking.

No serious disagreement will arise, of course, as to the malevolent influence of the cigaret on the growing youth. There is difference of opinion as to the incubation of the habit. Director Porter's view is worth considering, in view of the prevalence of loafing. "The greatest evil in our city life and our small town life today," declared the director, "is the corner lounge. Corner lounging is the incubator of most evil."

THE JANUARY SALES.
Cold weather came with the January sales this year. Winter was late in arriving and the sales were put on earlier than is usual. The circumstance is one whereby the public profits.

Because there was practically no cold weather earlier in the season, and very mild weather now, all the stores are overstocked with heavy goods. And because the merchants are anxious to get rid of the accumulated surplus, those who may soon feel the need of heavy garments find that they can buy them at cost.

Persons who read the sale announcements will do well to go to the stores and personally investigate the offerings. They will be surprised by the prices.

The advice to investigate the sales advertised is offered particularly for the benefit of out-of-town buyers. Our shoppers already are taking advantage of the situation and are rapidly supplying their needs. They have been prompt to see that there is money in buying at this time.

Residents of rural communities can profit by the example set by the local residents. Now that roads are in such good condition, a trip to Jacksonville while these sales are under way will pay for itself and over. A copy of The Journal, containing advertisements of merchants who are offering exceptional bargains at this time will be the only guide needed. It will direct them to the establishments where the bargains can be found.

LABOR UNIONS TO AID UNEMPLOYED

Assessment of 25¢ Throughout State Urged.

The needs of the 100,000 men idle in Chicago and the unfortunate condition of thousands of others in different parts of the state have led the Illinois Federation of Labor through President John Walker and Secretary-Treasurer J. F. Morris, to take cognizance of the situation.

Circulars have been sent out from the local headquarters suggesting the monthly assessment of twenty-five cents upon all employed members of the state federation to alleviate the distress occasioned by unemployment in the ranks of labor.

Three Means of Amelioration.

Three means of ameliorating conditions are given in the circulars sent out by the state officers. They are:

"First—That a common fund be created by voluntary assessment, subscription and donations from the employed members of affiliated unions, to be used to furnish food, coal and shelter to the unemployed union members in our midst.

"Second—That every unemployed married man be given assistance out of this common fund to sustain his wife, his children and his home, when such union man have family responsibilities.

"Third—That a place be provided where the unemployed can congregate during the day and night and with such arrangements as can be provided so as to give sustenance and sleeping accommodations to unemployed single men, union members."

Kentucky is expected to send a Democrat to the senate to succeed Bradley, Republican. The choice will be made in a general primary, with Governor McCreary, former Governor of Beckam and Representative Stanley as the contestants.

HOW TO CARE FOR THE STRAWBERRY

one can become very rapid and proficient. In planting the dirt should always be well pressed to the plant.
This is very necessary and the roots should always be well down and not doubled up. I advise cutting off about one-third of the roots. A sharp knife should be used so as not to bruise them and so the cuts will be smooth. This is important, as the cuts will then callous quickly and start out new root growth. A properly root pruned plant will start to grow quicker than the unpruned plant. It also enables the root to be straight down out of the way of the cultivator's teeth and not doubled up as is the case many times when roots are not pruned.

Cultivation should commence early in the spring and continue all summer. A small tooth cultivator is the best and should be used about every ten days or oftener. If rains should be heavy and pack the soil,
then cultivate as soon after the rain
as ground is dry enough. The grass and weeds should be removed from row and from plants and soil loosened between the plants. Give thorough cultivation, it will pay. The soil should be kept thoroughly loose and well pulverized all summer. When the runners commence to grow, rooting will have to be done with more care. When the new plant begins to form on the runner, it should be pressed down and a little loose soil thrown on the runner just behind the small plant. I advise letting the first runners grow and after enough plants have been rooted, keep all runners off. Cultivation should always be thorough, and in dry season like the last it should be increased.

Preparation for the care of the crop should be completed before berries are ready to pick; packing sheds fully equipped should be built at convenient places; carriers for the pickers to carry the boxes into the field should be ready; tickets or suitable checks to be given to the pickers for the berries brought into the shed should be printed and ready;
crates should be hauled and stored
for the harvest; wagons for hauling should be in repair so that no unnecessary delay will occur from this cause when the busy time is on. Everything should be in readiness. Now one of the important things is the securing of pickers; in some places
this is easily done, very often there being a surplus of help close, but in many places the help has to be brought in for the harvest from some other point, then it is necessary to arrange for help in advance, not only to secure the necessary pickers, but to provide places for them to live while the harvest is on. The management of the pickers in the field will depend a great deal on the number used and the class of laborers.
There should be efficient foremen to see that the berries are properly picked and the pickers follow the rules established by the grower. Different conditions will demand different rules and one will have to meet these conditions and dispose of them as his best judgment may dictate.
Pickers ought not be allowed to take too many boxes into the field at one time, as the berries should be brought to the shed often. Care should be exercised to prevent the mashing of the berries. In picking, all the bad berries should be thrown away in the field. Do not permit the pickers to lounge on the rows, for in this way they not only injure the ripe
but the green berries.

Jury Finds George Nunes GUILTY ON ONE COUNT.

In the case of the People vs. Geo-Nunes, charged with selling liquor in anti-saloon territory, the jury returned a verdict finding the young man guilty on the first count of the indictment. Judge Brockhouse has not yet fixed his sentence. The maximum penalty for the offense of which Nunes was convicted is thirty days in jail and a fine of $100.

Jury Considering Case.

The attention of the county court was occupied all day Friday by the case of the People vs. Anderson Kitchin, charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The case was given to the jury about 4:30 yesterday afternoon.

Stock Reducing Sale!

ILLINOIS DAIRYMEN

Injured by this method of raising.
S$45 Worth of Milk Raises a Calf.
The sale value of the milk fed
these calves was as follows:
150 pounds whole milk at $1.50 per 100 ..... $2.50 400 pounds skim milk at 30 cents per 100 ..... 1.20

Total ..... 33.45
And these prices of milk are liberal, especially as they are paid at the farm, and no money or labor is expended in hauling the milk to market. It is not so expensive to raise a calf as the dairyman have thought. The grain and hay consumed by heifers of high quality will give much better returns than the same feed fed to cows.

"It costs too much to raise the calves; we can't afford the milk." Where did this wonderful watchword come from and what makes it so popular? It recalls another great dairy saying of the same sort: "The moon is made of green cheese." They both shed light of the same kind—moonshine. Selling the heifer calves of good cows is one step worse than killing the geese that lays the golden egg; it is throwing the egg away after it is laid.

It is better to sell cows than to buy them. One Illinois dairyman who raises his heifer calves sold $2,375 of good dairy cows in eight years. That is a very good income to add to the sales of milk.

SEE IF THE CHILD'S

TONGUE IS COATED

Mother! Don't Hesitate! If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale,
don't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undiges-ted food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless, "fruit laxative;"
they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent
bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" (which has directions for babies, children of all sizes and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Rub Rheumatism Away With a

Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging.
Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly.
"St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never dis-points and can not burn the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining.
Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil," from any drug store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

EASTERN ATHLETIC OFFICIAL
NAMES ALL-AMERICAN TRACK TEAMS

Margin in Favor of Eastern Athletes is Smaller, Showing Improvement in Western Track and Field Athletes.

New York, Jan. 16.—The All-American track teams selected at the end of each athletic season by James E. Sullivan, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union were announced here tonight. The names of 58 athletes appear in the composition of three teams, there being several duplications in the All-American and All-College teams.

The Eastern clubs, colleges and schools, placed 37 athletes to the West's 21 but the margin is less this year than heretofore, bearing out the assertion that the standard of track and field athletics is improving more rapidly in the west than the east.

On the All-American scholastic team are:

C. Hoy (100 yards man), Greenfield, Iowa high school.

P. C. Stiles, (running broad jumper), Culver, Ind., Military Academy.

G. Tenny, (one mile run), West
Des Moines, Iowa school.

H. Goelitz, (120 hurdles), Oak Park, Ills., high school and C. Cory, (220 yards hurdles) Oak Park, Ills., high school.

ELECTROCUTION POSTPONED.

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 16.—
Thanks to the action of Governor Ralston in granting a reprieve to the prospective victim of the death chair, Indiana's first electrocution did not take place in the state prison here today as was originally scheduled.
The last legislature passed a law substituting electrocution for hanging, but the lawmakers neglected to appropriate money to buy the electric chair and in consequence there has been a delay in installing the apparatus. Unless the governor grants a further stay the first victims of the chair will be put to death on February 20. Those condemned to die are John Charka, convicted of the murder of his wife at Gary, and Harry Rasico, who killed his wife and infant son at Terre Haute, Ind.

HOW TO CARE FOR THE STRAWBERRY

MUCH CARE MUST BE EXERCISED IN PLANTING.

W. W. Thomas of Anna, Who Raises Millions of Plants Each Year, Tells How the Plants Must Be Cared for in Order to Get the Best Results.

(By W. W. Thomas, Anna, Ill., Before the Illinois State Horticultural Society, U. of I.).

Some varieties of strawberries are suitable for home market that are not desirable for shipping. The best shipping berries for Illinois today are Senator, Dunlap, Adoma, and Gandy, although there are some very promising new varieties which another year I perhaps could recommend. Other good varieties for Illinois are the Warfield, Excelsior, Ozark, Brandywine, Crescent and the Klondyke for the extreme southern part of the state. Many other varieties have been grown and are being grown that have merits worth commending.

To insure a good stand of plants, care must be exercised in planting. Many ways are recommended and many ways are successful. A mark off the land with a marker designed by myself, which marks four rows at a time, four feet wide. It cuts a mark in the ground which is not easily obliterated by rain and will remain visible for a long time. It is operated by three men and a mule. With this marker about 40 acres can be marked off in a day. This marker can be made by any blacksmith and is inexpensive.

As to distance apart plants should be set, and the number of plants per acre, much depends on varieties and

ANOTHER LESSON FROM DROUGHT OF LAST SUMMER

Summer Surface Cultivation Minimizes effects of Drought—If Severe Winter Follows Drought, Vegetation is in Poor Condition to Withstand It.

(By D. T. J. Burrill, University of Illinois).

In a previous article we wrote of the extreme value of a dust mulch in saving precious soil moisture, precious for all vegetation growth and especially effective when rainfall is deficient.

There is another lesson which may be derived from the dry summer if this is followed by a severe winter. It can easily be inferred from what has already been said that trees are now in poor condition to withstand hard winter conditions. The check to growth by the under supply of water which was pronounced in August, followed by a spring like revival in October, the latter in part due to the former, leaves trees unripened for the period of hibernation, for which they normally make good provision. If the winter is not very trying we may see nothing of the bad effects which are almost sure to be in evidence next year otherwise. There is likely to be more winter killing than usual of buds and branches and more bark-bursting from the trunks especially of apple trees. If there is found next spring and summer a separation at the cambium layer of living bark from the wood, notably near the ground and more often on the south side of apple tree trunks, the reasons for it need not be considered obscure.

Here again our safeguard is in summer surface cultivation, which minimizes the effects of drought and so favors normal autumnal ripening of the tree tissues.

SEWAGE DISPOSAL IN THE FARM HOME

SANITARY DISPOSAL OF SEWAGE IS BIG PROBLEM.

Farm Houses Can Be Equipped With Water Distribution System, Complete Plumbing and Sewage Disposal Installation for a Price Trifling In Comparison With the Benefits Derived.

(By Paul Hansen, Engineer, State Water Survey, U. of I.—One of the Articles in the Series on Modern Conveniences in the Farm Home). The sanitary disposal of sewage from the farm house is a problem introduced as a result of the use of water supply distribution systems and modern indoor plumbing. It is a necessary expense and to this extent a necessary evil following, however, the acquisition of great benefits.

The time is rapidly passing which tolerates on the farm homestead the laborious carrying of water from the well and cistern and the almost equally laborious effort required to throw out laundry and kitchen wastes. But the most offensive and objectionable of all inconveniences, under old order is the outdoor privy. Even when constructed and maintained in a careful manner, it is nevertheless, a filthy device and on account of its location many who live on farms fall because of modesty or because of discomfort in cold weather to attend to the calls of nature and this in turn brings on chronic constipation and its many sequels. In short the privy violates the very fundamentals of decency and health in civilized life.

Farm houses can now be equipped with a water distribution system, complete plumbing and a sewage disposal installation for $400 and upwards, a price trifling in comparison with the benefits derived, especially for the women on the farm. The only explanation why all farms are not equipped probably results from the difficulty of estimating in dollars and cents the value of such equipment as compared with its cost. The dollar and cents value nevertheless exists and would show up in most astonishing figures if it were possible to add up doctor bills, losses of time due to sickness and losses due to feeble health, all directly brought about by the lack of convenient, labor saving and sanitary appliances. In great cities some of these factors can be ascertained; for example, in Cincinnati the expenditure of $12,000,000 for improved water supply was entirely offset in the short period of two years by the saving in sickness and death from typhoid fever alone. The installation in cities of the double improvement of pure water supplies and sewerage systems is primarily responsible for the complete wiping out of the pestilential ravages so common in the middle ages and the substitution of healthy modern cities.

Sewage or the waste from indoor plumbing fixtures is merely a dirty water. The volume of this water in the case of a farm house would probably not exceed 50 gallons per capita. While the actual percentage of human excrete and soapy substances contained in this solution amounts to a very small percentage of the total volume of liquid, rarely more, in fact, than one part in a thousand, yet sewage is capable of purifying and giving off very disagreeable odors. Also it may be of an infection character, especially if there happens to be some one in the family ill with an infectious disease. It, therefore, becomes important to dispose of the sewage that it will not endanger health or create a nuisance due to foul odors.

The first essential is that the sewage must be carried away from the house in a properly constructed sewer made of vitrified sewer pipe carefully laid with oakum packed and cemented joints. If there is available near the residence a large stream, simple discharge into such stream will furnish a satisfactory way of getting rid of the sewage. Ordinarily, however, farm houses are not located near streams that have a sufficient flow to take care of even a small quantity of sewage without nuisance. It then becomes necessary to adopt more elaborate methods of sewage treatment. In this connection it is important to observe that no one method is suitable for all conditions. For best and most economical results it is necessary to select from among all available methods the one which conforms most advantageously with all local conditions.

Descriptions of a number of methods applicable under a variety of conditions to the farm house will be given in simple non-technical language in five or six succeeding articles.

will appear in the Corn Belter a series of five articles by W. J. Fraser, professor of dairy farming. These articles are: 1. Sacrificing of dairy heifers. 2. Importance of Proper Calf Raising. 3. Dairy Possibilities in Illinois. 4. Cow Paths That Lead Far Apart. 5. Feeding Value of Farm Crops per Acre.

SILAGE AND OTHER ROUGHAGES IN RATION FOR BEEF CATTLE

Advantage Due to Addition of Some Dry Roughage to Ration is Not Apparent Until After Middle of Feeding Period.

(By H. P. Rusk, University of Illinois, Before the Central Illinois Institute).

The effect of a dry roughage feed in conjunction with a ration of corn, cottonseed meal, and corn silage appears to depend largely upon the shape in which the corn is fed. Results of trials conducted at the Illinois experiment station show that the addition of alfalfa hay, clover hay or corn stover to a ration of broken ear corn, cottonseed meal, and corn silage decreased the rate of gains, increased the cost of gains and reduced the profits derived from the feeding operation. However, trials conducted at both the Illinois and Purdue experiment stations show that the addition of a dry roughage to ration of shelled corn cottonseed meal and corn silage increased the rate of gain, produced a more valuable finish and increased the profits in spite of the fact that the gains were more costly. The difference in the results obtained in the trial where broken ear corn was fed and in the trials where shelled corn was fed is probably due to the cob in the broken ear taking the place of a dry roughage in the ration.

The advantage due to the addition of some dry roughage to a ration of shelled corn, cottonseed meal and corn silage is not apparent until after the middle of the feeding period. Until that time steers receiving corn silage as the sole roughage make just as rapid and cheaper gains than steers receiving alfalfa hay or clover hay in addition. After the middle of the feeding period the more nearly the silage is replaced by some leguminous roughage the larger will be the gains and consequent finish. The nearer silage is replaced by either of these more expensive roughages the larger will be the consumption of corn and the higher the cost of gains. Further experimental work must be done before definite information will be available regarding the most economical combination under various conditions.

Results secured at the Illinois experiment station indicate that there is no variation in the pork produced from the droppings that can be attributed to the presence or absence of silage in the cattle ration, except indirectly as the consumption of corn by the cattle is effected. In other words, the pork produced from the droppings varied with the amount of shelled or broken ear corn fed the steers regardless of the presence or absence of silage in the ration.

The preparation of the corn is another important factor in the successful use of corn silage. The use of large amounts of silage in the ration appears to make the steers mouth tender and restricts the consumption of hard broke near corn.

A trial conducted at the Illinois experiment station with two year old steers showed that when the entire roughage was silage, shelled corn produced more rapid gains, a higher finish and returned larger profits than broken ear corn. The cost of gains was $9.45 per hundred in the lot receiving shelled corn and $9.76 in the lot receiving broken ear corn. The most economical results are obtained when the proportion of concentrates to roughage continue to increase until the cattle are finished. In this experiment the steers receiving broken corn could not be induced to consume enough corn in the final stages of the feeding period to make the most economical gains.

Probably the mistake most frequently made in feeding corn silage to fattening cattle is the practice of beginning with a small amount of silage and gradually increasing the allowance as the feeding period advances.

The reverse of this method should be followed.

The beginning of the feedings period, when the consumption of concentrates is low, is the time when the greatest possible use can be made of the roughages. This is especially true of corn silage. It is a bulky feed and when fed ad libitum will markedly reduce the steer's capacity for other feeds. The most economical results are obtained when the steers are started on about 5 pounds of shelled corn, 1 pound of cottonseed meal and 40 pounds of corn silage per 1,000 pounds live weight daily. The allowance of shelled corn and cottonseed meal may be increased rapidly for three or four weeks or until the steers are on full feed.

On the other hand, the silage allowance should increase very little or not at all. After about the 20th day it will be found necessary to commence decreasing the silage allowance in order to secure a satisfactory consumption of concentrates. By the end of the feeding period the steers should be consuming not over 12 to 15 pounds of silage per 1,000 pounds live weight.

ADDED TO CIRCUIT COURT DOCKET.

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Homburg Brust Tee" at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and relieve grip, as it opens the pores, and relieve congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

FROM STANDPOINT OF THE COMMISSION MAN

PROBLEM OF DISTRIBUTION AS THE MIDDLEMAN SEES IT.

Competition Among Jobbers Is Very Keen, Both at the Buying and Selling Ends—Every Jobber Has a Certain Clientele of Retailers Who Depend Upon Him for Supplies

(By John Denny, Chicago, Ill., Before the Illinois State Horticultural Society, U. of I.).

You tell me that you do not want to eliminate the middleman exactly, you realize that he is a necessary evil, but you want to see that he does not get more than he is entitled to for the service he performs. What you probably want to know is, how the commission man, or jobber, earns today his share of toll that he collects. Every jobber has a certain clientele of retailers who depend on him for supplies. It is his business to secure and keep on hand at all times the grade and quality they demand, and in such quantities as they require. In order to do this, it is no easy task. We have to cover practically every state in the union, and some foreign countries. For instance, we must secure our oranges from California, Florida, Mexico, and Jamaica; lemons from California and Italy; bananas from Central America, etc.

We go to the producing centers and we have competition from every jobber of consequence throughout the country. It is a question at producing points as to who can pay the most. When the goods reach the market then it is a question of which of us can deliver the best, sell the cheapest, or extend the best terms.

It should be the practice to churn at least twice a week, and probably three times a week during the summer months. Each batch of cream should be cooled after separating it and before mixing it with cream from previous skimmings. It is desirable to skim a cream that will test about 35 per cent butter fat.

The cream should be kept in a container which will not flavor it, and kept as cool and sweet as possible until time for ripening. A well tinned milk or shot gun can will serve the purpose, and should be kept in a place that is free from odors such as are liable to be present in a cellar or kitchen.

ILLINOIS DAIRYMEN

SACRIFICING HEIFERS

DAIRYMEN OF THE STATE ARE NOT RAISING THEIR HEIFER CALVES.

Calves of Good Cows are Sold to the Butcher and Little Effort is Made to Perpetuate the Superior Qualities of the Mother—Tendency of This is to Poor Cows.

(By Wilber J. Fraser, Professor of Dairy Farming, University of Illinois). The chief criticism made about dairy butter is its flavor. There is not only lack of uniformity of flavor in different churnings of butter made by the same person, but dairy butter is usually criticized because of some defect in the flavor. Defects in butter flavor might be classified under two main headings: First, "flat" flavors, and, second, bad or "off" flavors.

Under "flat" flavors, we have lacking the quick, rich flavor that butter should have to be classed as fancy dairy butter, although the flavor may be clean. This lack of flavor is caused by churning sweet cream or cream that has not been ripened to the proper degree of acidity. Such butter usually has superior keeping qualities and there may be a demand for it by some special trade, but a critic butter buyer will criticize it because of its lack of flavor.

There are many flavors which may be classed under "off" flavors. Some of the most common are rancid, metallic, cowy, unclean, cheesy, smothered, and cellar flavors. Flavors of this type are far more undesirable than the "flat" flavor, because they show improper handling of the cream from which the butter was made. The cream having been either ripened by undesirable bacteria or ripened in undesirable places so that it absorbed odors from its surroundings. All of these defects could have been prevented if the cream had been properly cared for.

Tendency Is to Poor Cows. The tendency of this custom is to poor cows and it cannot be otherwise. The cow buyer cannot get enough really good cows to supply his purchasers, but few of the best cows are for sale. The dairyman himself must raise the heifer calves of his best cows, and not depend on anybody's offerings to replenish his herd. He has the breeding stock, the feed—cheap feed—and the

RIpening the Cream for Butter Making on Farm

Cream Which Is Ripened to Certain Degree of Acidity Adds Greatly to the Flavor of Butter.

(By H. A. Kuene, Dairy Husbandry, University of Illinois).

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND THEATRE TO SEE GAY'S FENCE PICTURES

Two Shows at Scott's Illustrate Manufacture of American Fence—Numbers Turned Away.

Immense crowds gathered at Scott's theatre Friday afternoon to witness the motion picture story of the manufacture of American wire fence, put on by the reliable hardware man, George S. Gay. Five thousand feet of film were shown in five reels, showing the manufacturing process from the mining of the ore to the placing of the fence on the farm.

The house was well filled by the time the first show began and many were waiting to enter when the theatre was emptied for the second. The crowds gathering were larger than the capacity of the building and the show from every standpoint was an unequalled success as well as a good illustration of the progressive methods of the American Steel and Wire Co., the manufacturers of the fence.

The story the pictures told was very interesting and the exhibition was an excellent one from an educational standpoint alone. Among the more notable pictures were those depicting the blast furnace in action, the "blowing off" of a mammoth Bessemer converter, the open hearth process of steel manufacture and the passing of the hot metal through mangle rollers. The reels began by showing the metal as it was mined, the overhead tram lines and hoisting machinery, the steam shovels at work and the transportation of the ore to the blast furnace and mill. After showing the blasting and milling process, they continued with the rolling of the metal, the drawing of the cold steel into wire, the galvanizing process and the weaving of the wire into the finished product.

ROUTT HIGH DEFEATS BLUFFS HIGH SCHOOL IN FAST GAME

Walsh Proves Star of Local Players, Scoring 17 Points—Thorn is Best Point Getter For Visitors.

ROUTT College High school evened up matters Friday night at Library hall by defeating the Bluffs High school team by a score of 28 to 22. They lost their first game of the season to Manchester.

In the first half the locals were outplayed by the visitors and the end of that period resulted in a score of 14 to 9 in favor of Bluffs. The Purple players displayed their usual vigor and aggressive playing in the second half, while their opponents seemed to have run down. The contest throughout was an exciting one and the crowd was quite liberal with its cheering.

For the locals Walsh, who is about the smallest man on the team, was easily the star, making 17 of the points, three of his goals being made from the field. When a foul was called in the visitors it invariably meant another point in favor of Routt, as Walsh was very accurate. Clancy and Groves divided honors by scoring four points each and Froelich and Leary played a good game at guard. Bluffs did considerable hacking which proved disastrous for them as Routt was awarded 3 points for these offenses. For the visitors Thorn made 20 points and the other 2 were scored by Hyler.

The lineup follows:

Bluffs—Thorn, c; Wilford and Hyler, f; Cassell, Murreh and Hierman, g.

Routt—Groves, c; Walsh and Clancy, f; Froelich and Leary, g.

Officials—Referee, Moore, Bluffs;

Umpire, Flood; timers, Pleper and Thompson; scorers, Donovan and Thompson.

Come in before noon if you can but come in anytime and you'll be glad and so will Hillery's.

MINISTER EXPLAINS WORK OF CHURCH ERECTION BOARD

Dr. W. H. Penhallegon, Presbyterian Minister of Decatur, Speaks of Fund for Needy Churches.

In an excellent address Friday evening at Northminster church on the classes and ideals of church membership, the Rev. W. H. Penhallegon, Presbyterian minister of Decatur, told of the work of the national board of church erection, of which he is secretary for the Springfield, Ill., Presbytery. The board lends money to churches in debt without interest, allows them to pay off all obligations and gives the churches a reasonably long time to repay. The sermon was preceded by a supper in honor of Rev. Mr. Penhallegon, served by the ladies of the church and attended by the Presbyterian ministers of the city and the Northminster church officers. At the close of the service, the officers, at the suggestion of Rev. Mr. Spoons, the pastor, extended to the women a rising vote of thanks for their kindness in preparing and serving the supper.

Among the types of Christian found in the average church, Rev. Mr. Penhallegon said, are the progressive ones who are in the lead of all movements for the benefit of the community and the members who when it comes to good works are "never in it"; the Christians who reflect good cheer and righteously work like church members who grasp and acquire but never give freely for works of uplift. The minister spoke highly of the membership of Northminster and of Mr. Spoons, the pastor, and said that although he could not promise the aid of the board he would see what he could do to obtain its favorable consideration.

Before the sermon the choir favored the audience with an anthem, Miss Esther Spoons sang a solo. A second anthem by the choir closed the service.

Those present at the banquet in the parlor of the church in honor of the Decatur minister were: Pres. C. H. Rammekamp of Illinois college; Dr. A. B. Mayey, Rev. Leonidas H. Davis, Rev. E. W. Akers, Rev. Howard D. French and Rev. Mr. Spoons, Presbyterian ministers of the city; E. M. Vasconcellos, W. C. Sperry, Jesse R. Hastings, John Day, Emmanuel Day, Geo. Day, A. P. Vasconcellos, Antonio Sardinha, J. A. Gomes, Joseph Smith, Henry Day and Alfred Souza, elders of the church; J. R. Fernandes, Edward Nunes, Edward Smith, John Day, Fred Gomes and John Vieira, the deacons, and the trustees of the church, Joshua Vasconcellos, John Frank, E. M. Vasconcellos, John G. Goveia, John Shaw, J. W. Baptist and J. M. Frates.

The Domestic Science Round Table will meet at the high school building this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Leader—Miss Isabelle Balwin, instructor of Domestic Science at the high school.
